Bunny Alexander

Bunny Alexander was the Senior Consultant for Organizational Development at the Niagara Health System from its inception in 2000 until 2008. During this time the Niagara Health System was a very vibrant organization that saw many changes as a result of the amalgamation of seven hospital sites in Niagara. In this role Bunny was responsible for developing corporate programs such as orientation, reward and recognition, leadership and workforce training, recruitment and selection, volunteer and student resources. Prior to 2000 she held various positions in health care including management of patient care areas and risk and quality management.

Bunny is currently a private consultant providing service to other health care organizations in order to assist them with policy development and risk assessment and reduction.

Bunny is a life long resident of Niagara and, in addition to her role as the Business Co-chair for the Niagara Training and Adjustment Board, she is actively involved in many other volunteer activities.
